STATUS

After completing a project, it is always beneficial to step back and assess how things went. Was the delivery successful (on schedule and objectives met)? Did you allot enough time and effort for each milestone/aspect? What were the major points of difficulty and how can you plan for and resolve them in the future? How does your delivery compare with those of your peers?

In this discussion, you'll be sharing your completed project, your thoughts on the progress and delivery of your project, as well as a short critique on at least two (2) peers' projects.
